THE WORST YET

Of all the silly twaddle that comes to my desk from publicity-seeking hounds, I want to award the Christmas bun or something to the Progressive Republican League—whatever that is—in Los Angeles.

Read this and weep: "Without warning and with the force of a high explosive shell, this publicity yesterday burst upon the political horizon, slamming terror into the various encampments casting a desirous eye toward the 1935 November election."

"The revelation came in a statement from the Los Angeles headquarters of the Progressive Republican League, which plans to sponsor Governor Merriam for the supreme office. Although a resolution passed and sent to him has not been answered, both officials of the League and political wiseacres concur in predicting there is little doubt but that he will accept."

"Those with a finger on the pre-electoral pulse of the State and country admit that Governor Merriam as a dark horse will offset all present calculations in Republican, Democratic, or any other party, recapitulation. And such a spitting of ranks asunder cannot but change the entire complications of the (Continued on page 8)

It is believed that the Italian navy is preparing for any possible "events" should the League of Nations declare oil sanctions on Italy.

UNCOVER ACTIVITY
ROME, Dec. 26.—UP—"Peace in Christmas" having failed when international opinion sank the Franco-British proposals, optimistic diplomats now talk glibly of "peace early in the New Year."

Despite general assumption that diplomatic exchanges in the Italo-Ethiopian situation are in process until after January 1, the United Press learned today that some sort of undercover activity is in progress.

RENEW NEGOTIATIONS
It is not certain that the sudden cancellation of French Ambassador Count Charles de Chambrun's plan to spend Christmas in Paris was considered significant by some diplomats. There are signs of diplomatic activity in high official quarters. Premier Benito (Continued on page 3)

No State Funds For Tunnel Road Board Is Told

MARTINEZ, Dec. 26.—The State has no funds from which it can make an additional appropriation for reconstruction of the Tunnel highway, between the Broadway tunnel and Walnut Creek, but it funds become available for undertaking additional projects the Highway Commission will give "serious consideration" to a Contra Costa county request.

Such was the response the board of supervisors received today from Earl Lee Kelly, director of the State Department of Public Works, to a resolution it adopted December 16 asking additional grants be made for reconstruction for the Tunnel road. The commission has allocated $325,000 for reconstruction of the highway between the Tunnel and Lafayette but the supervisors pointed out that no provision has been made for improvement of the highway between Lafayette and Walnut Creek and when the bore is opened to traffic the Walnut Creek-Lafayette link will be inadequate and dangerous.

Crusaders In Challenge To Dr. Townsend

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26.—UP—The California Crusaders, non-partisan organization pledged to fight against "crackpot legislation," today challenged Dr. F. E. Townsend to defend his old age pension plan on the debate platform.

Samuel J. Hume, San Francisco personal director of the organization, was chosen to meet the tall, bespectacled "leader of millions" and the debate is arranged.

In a formal challenge to Dr. Townsend, who would return property and security to the nation by paying every citizen over 60 years of age $200 a month, they "intend to debate the plan's merits at any time any place in California."

The Crusaders announced that "after exhaustive study of the Townsend Plan by the Research and Intelligence Council, we are convinced that your program, if put in operation, would result in economic disaster for the nation."

"In order that the Townsend plan and all that it implies may be brought fairly before the public, the California Crusaders challenge you to debate this question at any time and any place in California you will name."

They declared they were in sympathy with "any workable proposal which will bring security to the aged but were directly opposed to the Townsend plan."

"Non-feasibility" was given as the Crusaders' principal objection to the Townsend plan.

SAN PABLO INJURED BY BULL DIES

Injuries suffered when he was gored by a mad bull in the corral of his dairy ranch in the San Pablo creek district last Monday proved fatal last evening to David Evans, 52.

Despite heroic efforts by doctors and hospital attendants, Evans passed away at 7 o'clock last evening at a local hospital. The horns of the enraged bull had pierced his abdomen, inflicting fatal wounds.

GORED BY BULL
According to reports made by relatives and friends to the coroner's office, Evans had walked through the corral at his ranch late Monday afternoon, intent upon rounding up his cows for the evening milking. Suddenly he was attacked by the bull. Evans was forced against the wall of the barn and held helpless, unable to escape while the bull gored him.

Evans' cries for aid were heard by ranch workers who rushed to his aid and fought off the bull with pitchforks.

UNDERWENT OPERATION
The injured man was taken to a local hospital where he underwent an immediate operation. Efforts of medical science to save him were of no avail.

Deceased was 52 years of age and was born in Wales. He had been in the dairy business for the past 20 years. He had lived in the bay region for the past 30 years, making hundreds of friends who will mourn his death.

He is survived by his widow, Jennie Evans and two daughters: Catherine Evans and Jennie Evans both living at home.

Japanese Friend Of America Given Post In Cabinet

TOKIO, Dec. 26.—Parliamentarians won a notable victory today when Admiral Viscount Makoto Saito, venerable former premier, was fastidiously named as keeper of the privy seal—a post which enables the statesman to become one of the chief advisors of the emperor.

Saito succeeds Count Nonaka Makino, American-educated former diplomat and cabinet minister. Makino resigned suddenly "because of ill health." He had long been under fire from the Nationalists because of his opposition to the army moves to gain territory in China by force and in defiance of treaties.

Saito's selection was said to mean that the emperor intends to continue his support of parliament and will not yield to the demand of Nationalists for a military dictatorship. It also means that the United States will have a strong friend in the imperial court for Saito has advocated the strongest measures to retain American friendship.

Invent New Plan
To Put End To License Trading

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26.—(AP)—California hunters and fishermen may not be able to trade or borrow one another's licenses with such ease as they have in the past under a new system, suggested to the Fish and Game Commission by Alan Hurling of the Associated Sportsmen of California, is adopted.

The new system abolishes the badges used in the past and substitutes a small printed license form which, when properly filled out, is to be glued to the back of a picture of the applicant. This system, according to its author, will lower the number of unlicensed hunters and fishermen and increase the State revenue from such licenses, and will save the cost of making the old style badges, since the photographs are to be supplied by the applicant himself.

Polo Tourney At
Del Monte Today

DEL MONTE, Dec. 26.—(AP)—The Del Monte Christmas polo tournament, to be staged on an eight-team round robin basis and officially opening the Northern California season, will begin here tomorrow.

Twelve and 16 goal events will feature the tournament, in which are entered quartets comprising high-ranking British internationalists.

Outstanding of the teams entered are the Panther and Argentine organizations, with the former headed by E. Tyrell-Martin, captain of the British international team, and the latter by Captain Philip Masor.

Other teams entered in the tournament include those of Del Monte, San Mateo, Santa Barbara, Casita Valley, Ridgewood and Pog O'Nip.

ODDS FAVOR
EAST TEAM IN CHARITY GAME

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26.—(AP)—A squad of Eastern football players, backed by a team of the strongest collegiate players east of the Mississippi and guarded with All-American caliber, will take on the local team today in the East-West charity game to be played here in Kezar stadium New Year's Day.

It was an impressive eleven that lined up at Kezar field in the early 1930s to begin its final push to the sphere before facing an onslaught of the west, which has kept Eastern teams on the short end of the scoreboard since 1921.

Coached by Andy Kerr, California's mentor and proponent of the lateral, and Dick Hanley, former Northwestern coach, the eastern team was as follows:

Dick: Bruce Antonini, University of Indiana and Frank Loeb, Purdue.

Tackles: Art Lewis, University of Iowa and Dick Smith, University of Minnesota.

Guard: Daniel Fortman, Colgate, and Vernon Dech, University of Minnesota.

Center: Homer Jones, of Ohio State.

Quarterback: Riley Smith, University of Alabama.

Fullback: Sheldon Bess, University of Minnesota.

Observers believed the Colgate system, developed by Andy Kerr, which includes generous use of the lateral with the Warner ground game at the back, will be adopted by the easterners.

Today they went through a hard workout, concentrating on offense. The only absentee was Walter Cence, Northwestern star, who yesterday suffered a dislocated knee during a Christmas day practice.

Meanwhile, the Western team, coached by Babe Hollingbery, of Washington State and Percy Lowry of Denver University prepared for the game with a series of practices at Palo Alto.

Receipts of the game are turned over to the Shrine hospital for the benefit of crippled children.

42-Round Bill
For Fight Fans

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26.—(AP)—Fight fans will be able to get an evening's worth of fistbouts at Exposition Auditorium Monday night when the American Boxing Club stages its final 1935 show with a 42-round bill.

Three six-rounders will headline the event with Eddie Butler and Tommy Green squaring off in the last third of the triple-main event.

Six other bouts, of four round each, complete the card.

Martial Law For Chinese Valley

SHANGHAI, Friday, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Virtually the entire lower Yangtze river valley was under martial law today as General Chiang Kai-shek's harassed Central Chinese government in Nanking strove to suppress student rioters and Nationalist associations who are determined to prevent the government from yielding to Japan.

Military law was in effect in Shanghai, Hankow and Nanking and military commanders in all towns were instructed to suppress all anti-government and anti-Japanese demonstrations.

Philippine Clipper

LONE ENTRY IN
GOLF TOURNEY;
MORE EXPECTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26.—(AP)—San Francisco's national match play open golf championship, which has caused much commotion in golfing circles because of the $25 entry fee demanded by the sponsoring Junior Chamber of Commerce, has at least one entry, Bonny Cotrin, pro at Lake Merced, where the tourney is to be held, has also cited his $25 with the proper officials and is the reigning favorite to walk off with the laurels. At the moment it looks like a very good investment, since the Junior Chamber has put up a $4,500 prize to be divided between the fifteen lowest scorers and the eight qualifiers for the match play.

Stanton Haight and Walter Rolmer, Junior Chamber scouts, showed off today for Los Angeles, where they will attempt to get such names as the Dutras, the Horton Smiths and others of the same ilk affixed to the dotted line. Another super salesman, Bill Scott, will tie himself to Sacramento to nab the signatures of other golfing greats. Officials of the tourney are not worried over threats of a P. G. A. boycott, and maintain that they will present a top-notch field at teeing off time on January 25.

Mussolini's holiday was believed greatly abbreviated in keeping with sacrifices of his people.
Definite negotiations looking toward settlement of the East African conflict are expected to be renewed intensively early in January, when Britain's new Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, taking a prominent part.
Italian officials reiterated that Eden's appointment is not considered a blow to Italian hopes because his new office will make him doubly responsible and his reputation as Italian and pro-Ethiopian bias is apt to make him especially careful not to widen the breach between Italy and Great Britain or adopt a course leading to war.
TWO AVIATORS HUNTED
HARAR, Ethiopia, Dec. 26.—UP.—Two Italian aviators were being trailed by Ethiopian troops like the game tonight with the head of a third was impaled on a spear and exhibited to raise the morale of southern troops who brought down an Italian observation plane this morning near Dargah Bur.
The wrecked plane carrying the three men was one of two which flew low over Ethiopian fortifications at Dargah Bur, about 120 miles southeast of here, apparently in an effort to ferret out the defense positions.
Ethiopian troops refused to hunt the planes as they flew across Dargah Bur. Apparently seeing nothing suspicious, the Italians roared back, this time much lower. The Ethiopians jumped from their concealment and peppered the planes with a terrific fire.
The planes sped off but one flattered down to a forced landing six miles south of the town. Two of the occupants fled into the brush and sand dunes to avoid certain death by thirst or starvation. The third, captured, was decapitated and his head carried back to Dargah Bur, according to reports here.

Dr. Townsend Says Third Party Ready
EL CENTRO, Dec. 26.—UP.—A third party candidate for President will be injected into the 1936 race unless one of the two major parties endorses the Townsend old age pension plan, its founder announced tonight.

PENSION PLAN TO BE THROWN OUT BY SOLONS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—UP.—Senator Pat Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, chairman of the powerful Senate finance committee, tonight angrily accused members of the American Liberty League of being "apostles of greed" seeking to cancel the entire government through "plutocratic" propaganda.
The Mississippi's attack was provoked by publication of the League's 12-point program for restoration of economic stability.
"President Roosevelt's courageous and constructive course will not be diverted by the plutocratic propaganda of this group or any other organization masquerading as patriots, but in reality apostles of greed," Harrison said.
SHORT SESSION
Summoning newspaper correspondents to his office soon after his return to the Capitol, Harrison made these predictions:
The coming session of Congress will be short.
There will be no general tax legislation.
A compromise soldier bonus bill will be enacted.
The Townsend old age pension plan will be scrapped in Congress. Substitute farm legislation will be enacted if the Supreme Court settles AAA.
The social security law may be amended.
A manufacturers excise tax would be defeated.
CHANGES SEEN
Changes may be made in the Federal liquor regulations.
Harrison was especially emphatic in registering his opposition to the Townsend plan which would pay $200 a month to all persons over 60. Townsend would raise this money through a transactions tax.
"It is an absolute impossibility for a government that has had to meet extraordinary expenditures because of extraordinary conditions to undertake future expenditures that would amount to $24,000,000,000," he said.
"Proponents of the plan admit that they can raise only $4,000,000,000 through the transactions tax. Where is the rest of the money coming from? I'm not that kind of a magician."

Men On Relief Will Be Placed In WPA Camps
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26.—UP.—In an effort to reduce direct relief expenditures, needs created by a greatly reduced budget in effect after the first of the year, Frank V. McLaughlin, state SRA and WPA administrator, today authorized the moving of unattached relief men to WPA camps.
When this new arrangement is put into effect, all men coming under this classification will be removed from state and county relief rolls and placed in the camps, 40 to 50 of which will be operating throughout the state. There they will receive from $15 to $25 per month in addition to subsistence and medical care, according to E. E. Ames, assistant state SRA administrator. Ames will vary in accordance with the type of employment.
This new plan is designed to lower state relief expenditures to bring them within the $200,000,000 budget slated for use during January, part of which is supplied by the state and part from the last of Federal allotments to California.
A bulletin directed to relief administrators throughout the state requested them to inform the state headquarters immediately of the number of men now eligible for this new WPA arrangement, and not to attempt to place any of these men in state or transient camps.

FIREMAN OVERCOME IN FIGHTING BLAZE

The smoke eaters, it seems, can't always get smoke with impunity, and this was demonstrated yesterday morning when Jimmie Glasen, of the local fire department, passed out while trying to locate the source of the blaze at 912 Clark place whether he and Engineer Joe De Martini had gone in answer to a call at 3 A. M.
The house of L. H. Harbington at the back street address was filled with smoke from a fire, he tried to have been caused by an over-heated fireplace. Glasen crawled underneath the house to locate the blaze, was overcome by smoke and had to be pulled out some minutes later by De Martini whose calls Glasen failed to answer. The victim was revived after reaching the fresh air and was suffering from effects yesterday. The fire which had started in the floor underneath the hearth of the fireplace was extinguished after doing a small amount of damage which was fully covered by insurance.

Pittman Plans To Carry Japan Row To Congress

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—UP.—The United States may be called upon to take action to protect its citizens if the present military government remains in power in Japan, Key Pittman, Dem., of Nevada, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, said today.
Pittman's remarks were directed to clarify accounts of his speech last week in Las Vegas, Nev., in which he was quoted as forecasting war between Japan and America. He said he would further amplify his position on the floor of the Senate soon after Congress reconvenes January 3.
At the time Pittman said, he would reply to criticism of Japanese Ambassador Hirota Salto, who appealed to the American public not to take the Nevada senator's remarks too seriously.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Some Words on a Common Ailment of Youthful Days—Pimples

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

A SCHOOLBOY signing himself X, but saying his initials are J. M. R., asks me to write an article concerning the cure of a condition which I am absolutely sure is very near to his heart, as well as of prime importance to thousands of other boys and girls in the United States. Mainly and simply the question concerns pimples on the face.

DR. CHRISMAN

He says he is sure many school students would be thankful for such an article. Well, I will gladly write an article on "Pimples," but as for the cure, I am sure of one thing. If I knew of a sure cure for pimples, I should not have time to write any articles.

My time to count and spend the money that came rolling in. Pimples have appeared more or less on the faces, necks, chest and backs of boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 25 since the beginning of time, and I fear they will continue to do so. I might say they are almost a necessity at that age.

They are a natural result of growing up, and the boy or girl who does not have them has missed something, probably without regret. Blackheads, pimples, acne, are a triumvirate that are the natural result of conditions of the skin of the face, neck and back at that age.

Skin Is Undeveloped

The skin of these parts is thick, oily and loose. The muscles are not well developed and do not squeeze the excess oil from the oil (or sebaceous) glands. The openings of the ducts become plugged up and bacteria, which are always in the skin, collect in the openings, causing the appearance of blackheads. These lead to pimples, and finally to pus pockets. Later the skin muscles develop, the skin grows less thick and porous, and becomes smooth and usually clear of the trouble.

What can we do to correct this affliction early and remove the unsightly little pimples? Well, almost anything. Lotion, soap and solution has been used and lauded as a cure, but they are still with us. No doubt, the glands of internal secretions have much to do with the condition, but we have not yet learned which ones are to blame or just how to choose the remedies, so we must stick to the old tried treatments.

No method of treatment can be successful unless the general system is in good condition. This is best accomplished by avoiding sweets and oily foods. A general well-balanced diet, free from condiments, rich in vitamins, such as carrots, chocolate, cocoa, coffee and soda fountain drinks.

Good old meats, potatoes, cabbage, sauerkraut, corn bread, vegetables and fruits, even beans and spinach, are allowed. Any deficiency of anemia should be overcome. I find that the compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, U.S.P., one or two teaspoonfuls, three or four times a day serves as an excellent tonic for the blood and nervous system.

Digestion Is Important

Constipation should be avoided and digestion kept up to par. The next thing is soap and water with vigorous rubbing with a rough cloth. The skin is soft and flabby and the pores are filled with oil and dry scales. Use any kind of good soap. That at five cents a cake can be as good as that at thirty-five cents, and cold water in preference to hot.

It may require some hot water to loosen the plugs, but the final washing should be with cold water as it stimulates the skin muscles and blood vessels to contract. The face, neck and back should be scrubbed hard, even though it makes the skin look red and burning. The outer dead skin must be removed to open the pores.

Five or ten minutes should be taken for the application of soap and water at night before retiring. The next morning the face should be scrubbed again with soap and water, and then thoroughly rinsed with cold water and dried before going outdoors.

After the face has been thoroughly washed at night, massage the surface, pinching the entire face hard and deep. Press out all the plugs and pustules you can find. Do not use the thumb or finger nails to do this, because they are hard and will crush the small vessels in the skin, but the pressing and pinching can be done with the fleshy parts of the finger tips.

Short Cuts

A wide margin around a rug gives a room the appearance of being smaller. For most rooms the margin should not exceed a foot and a half.

To keep the board from sliding when rolling out cookie dough, try putting a towel under it.

Guide to Charm

Eye Makeup Gives Charm To Ensemble

By JACQUELINE HUNT

A CERTAIN amount of experimenting, before your dressing table mirror, is usually all it takes to learn the little tricks with eye shadow, pencil and mascara that give you an air of mystery and conceal any shortcomings your eyes may have.

There is no set rule about the color shadow you should use. The best color is usually determined by complexion. Many brunettes use brown. Some find green, blue or purple is more flattering. A charming reddish may find gray or a dull blue-green is best.

When you discover the color most satisfactory for you you may find some of these tricks useful. If your eyelids are quite prominent use a darkish eye shadow, blending it over the entire lids to tone them down and make the blue less noticeable.

If your eyes are too close together for real beauty, blend the color only on the outer half of the eyelids and apply mascara rather heavily to the lashes at the outer corners of your eyes to give them length and make your eyes appear farther apart. A fine line drawn slightly up and out from the corners of the eyes with eye shadow pencil will also give eye length.

Eyes already far apart can be given better proportions by shading the lower half of the lid as the eye to the inner corner.

Gray eyes, by the way, are usually made lovelier by a subtle application of green eye shadow. In the lashes are pale in coloring use black mascara to make them appear thicker and more prominent.

A soft, clear red or slightly orange eye shadow is usually most flattering with this combination. Brush on your mascara from the roots of the lashes outward to their tips, brushing on top first and then brushing upward from underneath to color each hair uniformly. You can encourage the lashes to curl by pressing lightly back as you apply the mascara.

Nature usually puts on the eyebrows that harmonize the curves and shape of your face—but you are free to prune them into neat lines, so long as you do not distort their natural shape.

Gladys Swarthout, latest of the opera stars to join the movie ranks, believes you should always avoid a made up appearance. She thinks her brows only slightly "open her eyes a bit more" and "keep the line regular. Her lashes are naturally long and dark, so she never touches them, but she uses a very light brown or tannish eye shadow.

If your eyebrows are too light, if they are too short, or if they are scanty in patches after you have brushed away the eye shadows, spoil the natural line, use your eyebrow pencil to make up the deficiency. Draw it lightly over the brows several times to darken the hairs—not the skin underneath. Only if you extend the outer hairs are you permitted to mark directly on the skin, and then you should make only the faintest suggestion of a line.

It also seems timely to list a few highlights, so when one gets to rummage around the shelves in a rummage must of us do—we shall know what has a future and what is passé.

QUESTION: "When a man and a woman each have umbrellas it is up to the man to invite the woman to share his umbrella if they are walking together in the rain?"—H. J.

ANSWER: In a crowded street a man might ask his companion to share his umbrella for convenience sake. Ordinarily there is but one thing to consider when in the rain—how to keep dry. If each is equipped with an umbrella of his own, he derives the maximum of shelter from the rain under his own umbrella. Of course, if a couple are romantically inclined, they will want to share an umbrella and won't mind getting a little wet.

Party Liked Right After The Big Day

By JUDITH WILSON

IF YOU wish to thrill and surprise each member of your family give them a special party to be held sometime during the next week or so. You might write out clever hints on pretty Christmas cards, outlining your plan and tie them to the Christmas tree. Of course, guests are to be invited—the special school friends of the boys and girls, dad's men friends or the playmates of each younger child. Let the first "gift" party be one for the younger children. The day after Christmas usually finds the children irritable and restless. A party averts the after-Christmas lull and gives them a chance to exhibit their toys and play with their little friends.

PARTY REFRESHMENTS

Cream of Tomato Soup with Tapioca Pearls or Alphabet Noodles
Crisp Fruit Salad
Bread and Butter
Ice Cream Clowns
Cocoa
Bowls of Hot Cereal with Date and Raisin Faces
Toasted Stars
Malted Milk Beverage
Apple Sauce
Cookies

Plan only the simplest of refreshments, since even in the best regulated homes appetites are apt to suffer from too many sweets and too much rich food on Christmas day. Trick decorations will make even a bowl of cereal appealing and mothers will be grateful for your thoughtfulness.

Cereal Salad
For each salad fasten 2 animal crackers and 2 round crackers together with toothpicks. Stand on a salad plate with a long cracker resting on the toothpicks. Place a lettuce leaf on each long cracker and fill with diced oranges, bananas and apples that have been moistened with a little mayonnaise thinned with fruit juice or honey.

Ice Cream Clowns
Fold the edges of colored lace paper doilies into pleats so the edges will stand up like ruffles. Place one of these on each dessert plate. Put a round scoop of ice cream on a cookie in the center of each doily. Invert an ice cream cone on each ball of ice cream for a clown's hat and make faces from raisins and bits of gumdrops.

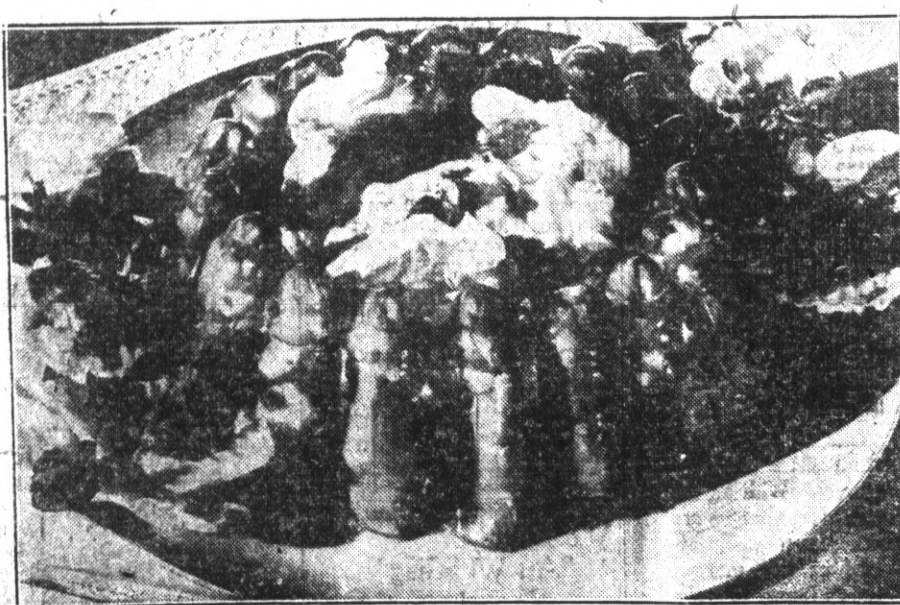

Cereal Santas
Cook cream of wheat in half milk and half water until thick and smooth. Put into medium-sized shallow cereal bowls and make grinning features from raisins and bits of dates. Indicate the fur of Santa's hat and make his jolly whiskers of whipped cream. Sprinkle the upper part of the hat with red sugar crystals. Serve with little pitchers of milk.

Toast Stars
Toast bread until light brown on both sides, cut into star shapes and spread with butter. These may be served plain or sprinkled with sugar that has been moistened with a little orange juice and grated orange rind and returned to the oven for a few minutes.

Cornflake Drops
Beat the whites of 2 eggs until very stiff, adding ½ cup sugar gradually. Fold in 1 cup nutmeats cut fine and 2 cups crisp corn flakes. Drop on a greased baking sheet and bake on a very slow oven until done and lightly browned.

Snow Mounds
Make rings of tender, steamed rice and unroll on individual plates. Fill the centers of the rings with creamed chicken and stand

EASY TO PREPARE

ASPARAGUS SALAD: 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin, 1 cup warm water, ¾ cup asparagus stock or water, 3 tablespoons vinegar, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 cups asparagus, cooked and diced, 1 pimiento, chopped.
Dissolve gelatin in warm water. Add asparagus stock, vinegar, and salt. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in asparagus and pimiento. Turn into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise.

MODERN WOMEN

When It Has been Impossible to Select a Gift, Try Giving a Party

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

IF A woman happens to be married to a man who has a fine scorn for Christmas presents labeled for John, but actually for the house, and if such a woman happens to have a husband who is a fastidious dresser and is possessed of everything under the sun, Christmas doesn't seem like a very glad or merry day to her. It's natural for her to commemorate the day by making her liege lord a present, but what sort of present can she possibly give him?

You and Your Child

Pre-Adolescent Needs Humoring as to Looks

By JANE HERBERT GOWARD

TOMMY blew into the house like a hurricane. "Can't you come in more quietly?" mother scolded. "And for goodness' sake, what's that thing around your waist?"

"The boy girdle," Tommy replied. "That's something to hold them up, where's your belt, Tommy?"

For answer the boy took the belt out of a back pocket. "The idea of wearing a rope for a belt!"

With a little difficulty, Tommy untied the rope and took it off. The idea of substituting it for the belt had come to one of the boys in the gang as a bright inspiration, and was eagerly adopted by all, being so odd and unconventional.

Meanwhile mother continued to reproach him about the rope until he had put on and fastened the belt. Then she changed the subject. "Don't you comb your hair any more? You're a disgrace, Tommy."

Tommy's frown was a silent protest that meant, "There she goes again!" He turned to go to his room and heard, "Your hands, your neck, your shoes. Really, Tommy, I don't know what has come over you. I don't know what to do about it." Tommy muttered, "Oh, shut up." Fortunately mother did not hear. But it really was an excellent piece of advice.

A growing child's development repeats the history of the race. At Tommy's age, eleven, a fellow scorns the social graces, being at a time of life when he likes to imagine himself a Robinson Crusoe. Many mothers turn gray from disarray at this point in a boy's development, but it is wise to remember the stage is transitory and that tolerance is needed to cope with it. Nagging is a waste of time. It antagonizes. Only one vulnerable spot remains, the child's vanity. Play to it. You could hand him a mirror, for example, and ask whether he does not think he is better looking with his hair combed, because you have made a suspicious of your motive.

little pine trees cut from green peppers around the sides of the rings. This simple combination appeals to the smallest child.

Fruit Dessert
Combine shredded pineapple, oranges cut into sections and diced, coconut, powdered sugar and lemon juice and chill thoroughly. Serve in glass dishes.

What is one man's mental meat is another's poison. One must have something more than an inkling of the mental processes of those to whom a book is to be given. It's dumb to say that one cannot go wrong in a bookstore. It is possible to go so far wrong that friendships and regard suffer immeasurable wrong.

In a sense that's pretty true of many other kinds of gifts, so, what with this and that, why run the risk of getting the wrong thing when there is always one way to please everyone? Give a party. When that don't-know-what-to-give feeling comes over you dash to the telephone, make a date of some sort for the theater, a concert, the movies, dinner, a night club, luncheon, anything you are sure will get a great big hand.

Most wives, or so it seems to me, complain because they never get places where they can dance and do whatever spells fun to them. Therefore, if such a woman's husband staged a night of the sort of entertainment she craves, don't you think it would be a gift to make her spirit rejoice? And if such a husband hesitates to spend money for a show he wants to see, don't you think he would be more than pleased his admission was provided?

Some of us love a party more than anything else. A party isn't a selfish pleasure, since one shares it with friends. Why not consider a holiday celebration of the kind everyone enjoys, instead of making an unimaginative purchase of something nobody wants?

Mrs. Martin will be glad to answer in this column questions of general interest. Mrs. Martin cannot reply individually to every correspondent. Names will not be published. Address her care of this paper.

NEW DEATH IS LAID TO FLEEING MAN

BUTTE, Mont., Dec. 26.—UP—Montana authorities tonight believed W. H. Knight, who late Wednesday shot and killed two persons here and wounded two others, had added another killing to his already imposing record.

Madison county authorities reported that Floyd Woods, aged caretaker at the Hutchins bridge near West Yellowstone area in southwestern Montana was missing and his car gone.

BLOOD IN CAR

Bloodstains were found near Woods' garage, the officers reported.

Woods' car was found tonight at Divide, Mont., the seat covered with bloodstains. A suitcase in the car was also blood-covered.

Police rushed to Divide immediately in an effort to discover whether or not there were finger prints on the car.

ABANDON CAR

Knight is believed to have abandoned the car in which he escaped from Butte Wednesday night and to have taken the car to the car. Presence of the bloodstains caused police to be fearful that Woods had been killed.

The car in which the fugitive escaped from Butte had not been found, however.

Discovery of the Woods car and the general belief that Knight fled toward the south heartened the authorities.

HUNT IS ON

Officers were covering a 250-mile area in the wild regions of the West Yellowstone area. There are few highways in the district and most of the roads are impassable because of weather conditions. Roads through the park are closed to traffic.

With these conditions it was believed it would be only a matter of time until the fugitive is forced into the open.

Knight, former convict from Idaho and Washington prisons, killed Butte police officer Thomas O'Neill and fatally wounded Frank Walsh, 24 year old grocery clerk, when the officers attempted to arrest him Christmas Day.

Dunamis Knights Meet Today In Annual Conclave

The conference will discuss ways of serving the Boy Scout movement and expanding the Knights of Dunamis organization throughout the United States.

The delegates will be welcomed officially tomorrow night at a banquet attended by Mayor Angelo J. Rossi, Administrative officer Alfred J. Cleary, and other civic and Scouting leaders. Guest speaker will be Tully C. Knies, president of the College of the Pacific.

The Knights of Dunamis was founded by Raymond O. Hansen in San Francisco 19 years ago. There are now 39 chapters in America.

Swift Disaster

ELEVEN PERSONS were killed near the Croydon airport in England when the plane in which they were riding crashed into the hills. The pilot turned off the three motors before hitting the ground, so that no fire ensued. Above, searchers examine the wreck for bodies.

COAST BUSINESS AT HIGHEST LEVELS FOR PAST 5 YEARS, MECHANICS BANK SAYS

The highest level in nearly five years was attained by the Pacific Coast business activity in November, it is reported by the Mechanics Bank.

Continuing the general business improvement in the West, the bank's index for the month of November, which began last week, showed an increase of 0.5 per cent over the index of Western Business for a month equal to 87.8 per cent of the 1923-25 average level. The index, which graphed above stood at 68.9 in November a year ago, and at 61.1 in January 1931, when it stood at 50.

The present level has been exceeded. All parts of California are particularly prominent in the year's marked improvement. A survey of 121 widely scattered sections of the State shows that current business activity is regarded as being "fair" or "better" and in all eight sections it is expected that the improvement will be maintained for the next six months at least.

One large group of buyers of agricultural products, factory workers, are sharing in larger total pay, than a year ago, the November increase over that of a year ago being reported at 21.2 per cent. These higher pay rates are well distributed over fifty classifications of industries, it is stated.

More Californians bought automobiles during the year to date, than in any of the four preceding years. Over 160,000 passenger cars and nearly 26,000 commercial automobiles have been sold.

ment with Jones over drinking debts.

Christensen was shot just above the heart with a soft-nosed bullet, and Jones had been shaking live in a game of "13 aces" with others at the bar for drinks, according to accounts of witnesses.

The two men became involved in an argument and bets were made on the side. Jones left the bar and Christensen turned to take a drink. Jones picked up a rifle in an adjoining room and returned to the doorway. Christensen turned just in time to receive the bullet.

He died within 30 minutes after the shooting.

In his attempt to avoid sheriff's possmen the fugitive cut back from the highway through deep snow toward the railroad tracks. Stanley said all cars and trains in the district would be stopped and searched.

Possibility of a gun battle before Jones is captured was forecast by Stanley. He pointed out Jones was desperate and freezing temperature at the 6,000-foot level would force him to seek shelter for the night.

Army Bombers To Bomb Lava Flow To Save Water

Twelve army bombing planes today left Honolulu for the islands of Hawaii, where they will drop 20 tons of high explosives in an effort to divert the course of hot lava streams threatening to choke off Hilo's water supplies.

Bombing of the molten lava flows from Mauna Loa will be started Friday, depending on wind and visibility conditions.

The "attack" will continue thru Monday, war department authorities notified Alfred K. Bell, director of a civilian conservation corps camp at Hamakua, high on the slopes leading to the 14,000-foot high volcano.

Army authorities hope to score "hits" with bombs which will blast the lava streams from their course and away from the Waikua river, which supplies the City of Hilo with water.

The bombers also will seek to plug up lava tubes, natural causeways of the hot streams, and thus halt the progress of the molten rock and earth.

G.O.P. LEADERS' SOLE INTEREST REGISTRATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26.—UP—State leaders of the Republican party insisted today they were "not interested" at the moment in the question of candidates and announced they will begin intensive registration campaign for the 1936 presidential election with a rally here tomorrow.

Principal speaker and organizer of the rally will be Lieutenant Governor George J. Blandford, who is expected to map the state drive to procure a maximum number of party registrations and to arouse interest in the G. O. P. cause in California.

A complete new registration of voters in California will begin January 2 in conformity with an amendment to the election laws adopted by the last legislature.

"The new law requires that all citizens register again beginning January 2," Blandford said. "It does not matter whether a citizen is registered at present; he or she must register anew to vote at the presidential elections next year," he pointed out by way of explanation.

"The Republican party is launching a campaign to enroll the greatest number of Republican voters in the state's history," the lieutenant governor added.

Marshall Hale, chairman of the San Francisco Republican committee indicated there will be no discussion of presidential candidates at the meeting.

"We are not interested in candidates right now," Hale said. "We are concerned solely with the campaign for registering Republican voters for 1936 and winning back a large number of our voters who registered for other parties in the last presidential election."

RECORD COLD REPORTED IN EAST STATES

owns reported the mercury as low as 14 below zero in the twin cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Heavy roads and snowdrifts a deep as 10 feet contributed most to the death toll, swelled by traffic accidents. But many died of freezing, eight were burned to death, a number were numerous. Attributable to heavy rain or, dunes of ice, with resultant melancholy accident, by highway safety.

SOUTH IS HIT

Not even the St. Louis and the cold wave, snow fell in Tennessee and was expected in southern Alabama and Georgia. Frost struck Florida.

Typical deaths were those of the farmer caught in a barbed wire fence at Jones, Ga., and frozen to death; the aged woman who poured oil on a coal stove and burned to death at Cleveland; the youth who fell under the wheels of a moving freight train near Elmhurst, Ill.; the Maplewood Park, Ill., law clerk blinded by snow flurries, whose automobile was struck at a railroad crossing.

FARMER FREEZES

The lady of the blizzard in the northwest was best illustrated by the death of Paul Antonowicz, near Jamestown, N. D. Driving to his farm home in an old-fashioned sled, he perished from cold. His wife, her arms and legs numb, abandoned the sled and made her way to a farm house. The house froze to death.

In New York, 13,700 men worked to clear the streets of snow while fell Christmas night. A drop in the temperature to 10 degrees was forecast for early Friday, with a strong southwest wind due to reach gale force. Ships were warned from Boston to Cape Hatteras.

Thousand Youths Escape Service In African Campaign

VIENNA, Dec. 26.—UP—The Pan German News Agency reported today that 1650 young German-blooded Italian citizens thus far have escaped military service in Ethiopia by seeking refuge in Germany, Austria and Switzerland.

Their relatives in Italy reportedly are persecuted to force them to bring pressure on the fugitives to return. Some reportedly have been arrested and fined or had their property confiscated.

The fugitives are from the Tyrol district of northern Italy, which was taken from Austria after the World War. A majority crossed the frontier into Austria and then went to Germany, while a few slipped directly across the Swiss border.

The figures reportedly are based on inquiries by the German and Austrian governments. No statistics are available from Italian sources.

Ten Stricken By Fumes During Christmas Mass

LONS DE SAUNIER, France, Dec. 26.—UP—A traveler from the snow-bound village of Salins Le Etap in the Jura mountains tonight told of the strange misfortune which marked Christmas mass.

Villagers had tunneled through the snow to the half buried church, which was warmed for the first time by a new heating plant. The services began.

The choir boys, in the middle of a hymn, toppled in a faint in their loft. Then the priest at the altar dropped unconscious. Numerous others fell to the floor, ill or faint.

Those near the doors threw them open. Fresh air quickly cleared out the carbon monoxide fumes from the new heater but not before 10 children, including choir boys, had been made gravely ill.

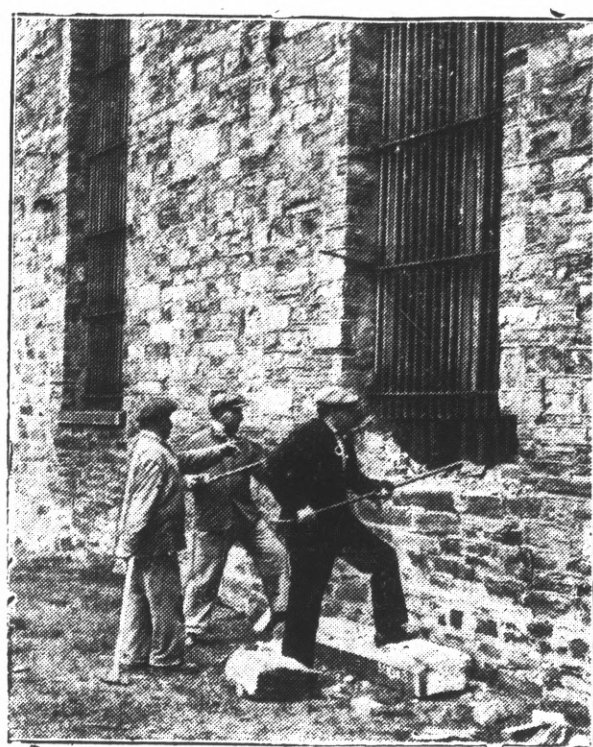

Expense Account Split Relations

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26.—UP—A dispute over an expense account led Mrs. Constance May Gavin, Flood estate heiress, and her special investigator, Eugene Auguey, to stop speaking to each other.

John Taaffe, San Francisco attorney, testified today in Attorney George K. Ford's suit for a $150,000 fee assertedly due him from Mrs. Gavin.

Taaffe said Mrs. Gavin had agreed to pay Auguey and himself $25,000 for expenses but finally gave Auguey only $7,000. Both men, however, shared in the $1,000,000 award recently awarded

Prison "Break"

WPA WORKERS reverse the usual process and hack their way into Welfare Island Prison, New York. But that's all right. The old institution was scheduled to be demolished and its 850 prisoners were to be moved to other quarters on Riker's Island.

presidential race.

There were some more astute utterances in addition to the ones above quoted but as there are many weak stomachs, following Christ-mas, I refrain from quoting more of the nauseating dose.

NO NOISES HEARD

Perhaps I am getting hard of hearing but I heard no loud or unusual political noises resulting from the League's announcement. And I have neither seen nor heard of any of the candidates being in a state of alarm. That "high explosive shell" proved to be nothing more than the rankest kind of a "dud."

SHOULD MUZZLE THEM

Personally I am of the opinion that Governor Merriam is too shrewd a politician to give sanction to such mawkish propaganda. It is therefore no surprise to read that the fulsome refutation depicting him as a statesman of high rank "has not yet been answered."

The best answer the governor could make would be to muzzle these boys in Southern California, who are doing him incalculable harm through their ill-advised efforts. I cannot bring myself to believe that Mr. Merriam has so lost his political balance as to be cozened into entering the presidential lists.

HIS HOME JOB

With a current biennium deficit of $80,000,000 staring him in the face, it is my opinion that the governor has quite a little chore right here at home which will demand all his time and talent to perform. He must first demonstrate his ability to successfully run the State of California before he adventures into larger fields.

In the meantime there is a suspicion in the back of my mind that the League's objective in reality is not to boost Merriam for the presidency, but by tooting his tocsin, to place some of its members in line for appointive jobs with fat salaries attached, which Merriam has in his power to bestow.

Mrs. Gavin from the Flood millions. The attorney said he served as intermediary during the dispute between Auguey and Mrs. Gavin, carrying messages back and forth from Auguey's office to Mrs. Gavin, who waited outside in an automobile.

passing motorists, who sounded the alarm.

Ambulances from Centerville and Irvinville were summoned and were en route to Fairmount hospital with 15 of the more seriously injured men.

MANY CUT

Spectator said many of the men were cut by glass improvised stretchers were made to carry some back to the road.

The men, according to Federal authorities, were originally assigned to the WPA, which has taken over the SERA camp at Clyde. They were the last contingent of a group being sent to Almaden, where they were to have been assigned to lighter work to fit their physical capacity.

NINE ESCAPE

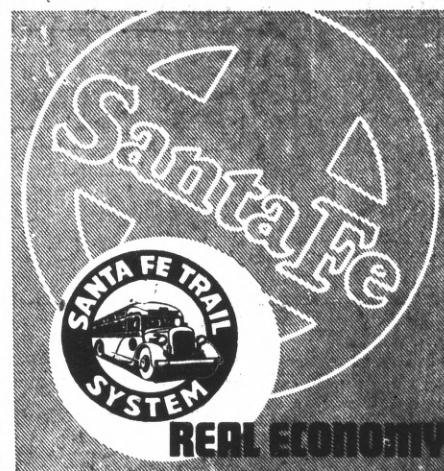

Nine of those on the truck escaped injury, according to reports by Traffic Officer Barron. Among them was the driver of the truck, who was taken to the State Highway Patrol office at Hayward for investigation.

The driver, who resides in San Jose, according to Barron, said the steering wheel locked on the truck, and he was unable to negotiate the turn.

Besides those injured, the truck occupants were Harold Kinney, 22, Vallejo; James P. McLaughlin, 45, 2666 Folsom street, San Francisco; Paul Burdick, 42, Minneapolis; P.
